Registrants, please note:

Groups will be small so that the student will have more individual tuition. As we all know, whether it is working with mediumship or whatever, each student's potential (as all of us are different) needs to be addressed on a single 'note'; and numbers will be kept low so that time and resources allow more attention to each individual. This is not a week for 'who is better than the others' but for all here to learn and gain confidence in their learning and presentation; and I feel responsible that each one takes away something positive from the week.
Audrey
